

NIXONS VISIT OXFORD; TO FLY HOME TONIGHT

VICE PRESIDENT, WIFE HAD BUSY SCHEDULE DURING THE DAY

LONDON UPI—Vice President Richard M. Nixon, leaving London for the first time in his flying visit to England, went to Oxford University—and a probable "ribbing" by its irreverent students.

Nixon and his wife Pat drove the 60 miles to the university this morning. They planned lunch with the vice chancellor president and talks with American and British students before driving back late today.

The Nixons planned to leave for home in their special Air Force plane at midnight.

Nixon, who has had virtually no opportunity during his English visit to "meet the people" as he has done on trips to other countries, may order some unscheduled stops during the day to chat with bystanders.

He will hold a news conference and appear on a British television program with newsmen later today.

The two sessions with the press will serve at least in part to satisfy the complaints of newsmen that Nixon, normally willing at any time to chat with reporters, has been virtually unreachable here.

He held an informal press conference at the U. S. Embassy Thursday, after there had been many complaints about his inaccessibility.

Newsmen were particularly nettled Wednesday night, when they turned up in tuxedos to cover a banquet at which Nixon was the guest of honor and were allowed to attend neither the dinner nor the reception preceding it.

Death Almost Took Holiday

Death nearly took a holiday in Indiana traffic during the first 36 hours of the long Thanksgiving weekend, but a snowstorm today created hazardous driving conditions which might shoot the toll upward.

Twenty-two hours after the count began, however, a Fountain County woman was killed in a head-on collision of two cars near Yeddo.

The victim was Mrs. Elsie Shoaf, 49, Wallace. A car she was driving collided with one driven by George Hinote, 20, Kingman, on a Fountain County road.

Shotgun accidents killed two men in Indiana during Thanksgiving Day hunting trips.

Leonard Shanks, 72, Camden, was killed when a gun held by Larry Jones, Logansport, went off as they and two friends walked through heavy brush near Deer Creek in Carroll County.

Robert O'Vivion, 23, Fontanet, was killed when his shotgun discharged as he placed it in his car at the end of a hunting expedition near Jessup in Parke County.

TIGER CUBS PICKED

Greencastle High School football players were included in the 1958 All-Conference teams picked by the varsity coaches of the Western Indiana Conference.

Gib Brown was placed on the first team at halfback. Bill Kehrner made the second team at the tackle position. Charles Roach, Dallas Sutherland, Charles Williams, Bowen Akers, Kenny Sears and Bob Bible received Honorable Mention.

Mrs. Marie Moore was hostess to the Martha Washington Club. Mrs. Gray Potter received a letter from the Indiana Tuberculosis Association which gave the Putnam County TB Association an "A" rating.

Woman's Relief Corps No. 23 met at the American Legion Home.

Mrs. Russell Brown and daughters, Eleanor and Margaret Ann, returned home from a visit in Hartford City.

ABANDON SHIP!

Susan Johnson, 17-year-old Annaolis student, for a joke, donned a midshipman's uniform, entered the U. S. Naval Academy grounds, marched and ate with the middies, stood night formation and escaped undetected by the top brass. After the officials learned of the hoax, they demoted the brigade commander and his five ranking midshipman officers.

Season's First Snow Arrives

Greencastle and Putnam County residents awoke Friday morning to find a blanket of white covering the entire countryside as result of a 3-inch snow which started falling just before 1 a. m.

After a chilly Thanksgiving Day Thursday, the temperature remained almost stationary at 24 degrees as the first snowfall of the season arrived in the community.

The snow was still falling at 7 a. m. and the state forecast said in some parts of Indiana there might be as much as six inches. The forecast also called for continued cold and cloudy weather.

State police reported U. S. 40 and Ind. 43 as somewhat hazardous but the Putnamville Post said there had been no serious accidents during the early morning hours.

State's Ice Age Shown In Film

"Rediscovery of Indiana," a program linked to Indiana's sesquicentennial in 1963, has been launched in Putnam County with community organizations and co-operating business firms presenting color film strip to school officials.

The film, "The Age of Ice in Indiana," is first of a proposed series for telling the Hoosier story in modern pictorial technique in all grade and high schools. A teachers' manual, graphically keyed to the film, provides narrative for pictures.

Tri Kappa sororities, including Beta Psi chapter and Greencastle associate chapter in the county, are joined as sponsors by Putnam County Historical Society, Greencastle Chamber of Commerce, First Citizens Bank and the Central National Bank.

4-H clubs are also listed as sponsors, courtesy of Indiana banks, since the film portrays events that laid a basis for Indiana's agricultural wealth. Tri Kappa and Panhandle Eastern are statewide sponsors.

Mrs. Kenneth S. Wagoner, president of Beta Psi in Greencastle and Mrs. John W. Earnshaw president of Tri Kappa Associate chapter handed a box containing 15 prints of the color film to County School Superintendent Loyd Hurst and City School Superintendent Royce Kurtz at a meeting here Wednesday morning. The box carried a card, "Happy 150th Birthday, Indiana—1816-1966."

Mrs. Wm. Boatright, president of Putnam County Historical Society, in commending the Tri Kappas and other sponsors, observed that each Hoosier community has its own particular Ice Age story which should be "rediscovered" and woven into the state story.

IKE CONSULTS WITH DEFENSE DEPT. 'BRASS'

HIGH COMMAND DISCUSS U. S. MILITARY BUDGET FOR 1960

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI)—The high command of the Defense Department flew here today to work with President Eisenhower on a 1960 military budget that could be forced upward by new Russian threats in Western Europe.

The Chief Executive was in communication with the State Department concerning Soviet proposals to draw West Berlin behind the Iron Curtain. He met in person with Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy and other administration officials in an effort to determine the billions necessary for national security in the coming fiscal year.

The defense budget meeting at the Augusta National Golf Club was expected to be followed by a special report to the President by Budget Maurice H. Stans on administration efforts to reduce federal spending in all areas not involved in national security or essential welfare programs.

While the White House staff here did not announce it, Eisenhower apparently was following the Berlin situation closely through Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and in other avenues of communications with the State Department.

Dulles will continue his long distance reports to the President until the secretary flies here Sunday for a general appraisal of the overall international situation. Dulles will stop off at the vacation White House en route to Mexico City for the inauguration of President Adolfo Lopez Mateos.

As the budget talks began, officials conversant with planning 1960 military spending said that while Russia continued to apply forceful pressure in Western Europe, there was no indication at the moment that current Soviet maneuvers would call for beefing up the budget.

Woman Admits Slaying Husband

CONNERSVILLE, Ind. (UPI)—Doris Hughes, 23, was shot to death in the kitchen of his home early today and authorities arrested his wife.

"There he is," said Mrs. Hazel Hughes, 22, pointing to her husband, as police arrived. Hughes, hit by a shotgun blast, died about half an hour after the shooting.

Mrs. Hughes told police she shot her husband with his gun when he came home and beat her. She met police on the porch of her home and admitted the shooting, authorities said.

Mrs. Hughes was taken to Fayette County Jail. Authorities said preliminary charges of first-degree murder would be filed against her.

The couple have two small children.

Evansville City Employees Strike

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (UPI)—City workers, including street and sanitary employees, struck in an organizational dispute today as a heavy snowstorm whipped this area.

Before mid-morning, six inches of snow lay on the ground in this city of about 135,000, the fifth largest in Indiana, and supervisory employees manned graders in an attempt to clear streets for traffic.

The workers walked out at midnight Thursday as the deadline passed to break a stalemate. Nearly 100 city employees voted last Sunday to strike if the city failed to recognize the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees as a collective bargaining agent.

Union officials said crucial services, such as heat, water, sewage disposal and garbage collections would continue.

Counter-Claims Made In Cuba

HAVANA (UPI)—The government claimed victory today in a clash with insurgents near Guantanamo while the rebel radio said anti-government forces have encircled the loyal garrison of Santiago.

An army communique said 25 rebels and two soldiers were killed in the clash at Montesano, outside Guantanamo. The report increased the number of rebels the government says it has killed in the past three weeks to more than 1,000.

At the same time, a rebel broadcast said the Santiago garrison has failed in five attempts to break through an insurgent cordon encircling the eastern provincial capital, Cuba's second city.

Agreement on a new contract came Thanksgiving morning and the pioneer auto firm ordered a full force of 9,000 employees back to work today, although ratification of the pact will not be voted on until Sunday.

Jap Prince To Wed Commoner

TOKYO (UPI)—The world loves lovers, and the story-book romance of Crown Prince Akihito and the pretty commoner he wooed and won had Japan floating on a rosy cloud today.

The simple 28-word announcement of Akihito's engagement to 24-year-old Michiko Shoda, shattering 2,618 years of tradition, was a source of joy throughout the nation.

It created a prospect of Miss Shoda, the daughter of a wealthy flour-mill executive, becoming the first commoner to share Japan's throne since the world's oldest reigning dynasty took it over in 660 B. C.

Speculation immediately turned to a wedding date. The best guess is that it will be no later than next fall.

Nation Marked Thanksgiving

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI)—Grandpa grumped about the carving knife. It couldn't cut butter, much less a 35-pound turkey. Besides that, the kids didn't want anything but white meat and when it came time for dessert, they turned down the pumpkin pie and yelled for ice cream.

So it went Thursday at Thanksgiving dinner in thousands of American homes—and particularly at the transplanted White House where the grandpa was President Eisenhower.

In not many American homes, however, was the turkey carved under the glare of movie floodlights, or the mashed potatoes ladled out before the lenses of the news cameras. The President and his family bore up cheerfully, however, under the few minutes of public attention and gaily went about the tradition of Thanksgiving.

Dinner was served at 6 p. m. on the glass-paned sunporch of "Mamie's cabin," the luxurious Eisenhower cottage beside a fairway at the Augusta National Golf Club.

Around the oblong table with its centerpiece of yellow and yellow and bronze fall flowers and cattails were the President's four grandchildren, David, 10; Barbara Anne, 9; Susan, 6; and Mary Jean, 2, who managed a ladylike appearance at the table without the indignity of a high-chair. She sat in a regular chair atop a cloth-covered box.

When the President started to carve the turkey he had difficulty in hacking away one leg from the main turkey carcass, clutching the other drumstick for maximum leverage. His son, Maj. John S. Eisenhower, came to his rescue while Mrs. Eisenhower and John's wife looked on patiently.

BAD WEATHER MAY INCREASE TOLL OF DEAD

HOPES FOR SAFELY CELEBRATING
THANKSGIVING HOLIDAY ARE DIMMED

A forecast of bad weather for nearly two-thirds of the nation today has hung a black cloud over hopes for safely celebrating the last two days of the Thanksgiving weekend.

The holiday neared its midpoint with a relatively low traffic death toll, but warnings of heavy snows throughout the Southwest and freezing rain across the upper half of the nation threatened a deadly finish to the weekend.

A United Press International nationwide count at 4 a. m. EST showed 111 persons dead in traffic accidents since 6 p. m. Thanksgiving eve. Reports were coming in at a slower rate than during the same four-day holiday in 1957 when 554 persons were killed on the highways.

In addition, 14 persons, including 10 children, died in fires, one in an airplane crash and 24 in various other accidents for an overall Thanksgiving toll so far of 147.

The weatherman's gloomy predictions were expected to keep even more people at their own firesides for the remainder of the four-day holiday—already one of the homiest in recent years.

Strikes against two major airlines—Eastern and Trans World—have reduced the nation's air traffic by one-third, and a count in New York City will decide today whether to lift an injunction which has halted a strike at American Airlines.

The holiday death toll was expected to rise at a steeper rate today with hazardous driving conditions predicted for the Midwest and South west, where snow, sleet and rain glazed highways.

Freezing temperatures were forecast for the new England states.

Among the most tragic accidents on Thanksgiving Day were a fire in North Little Rock, Ark., which took the lives of four children and their parents; a fire which killed five children at a nursing home near Oklahoma City; and a two-car collision near Crossville, Tenn., which resulted in four deaths. A fire at Milford, Conn., killed the daughter of a family which lost four children in a similar fire several years ago.

In other deaths, two girls drowned at a Stoughton, Wis., swimming pool after breaking through the ice while skating and

Liz Taylor Sued For Movie Tune

VIENNA (UPI)—Film actress Elizabeth Taylor, widow of producer Mike Todd, is being sued for one million dollars in a local court on grounds that the theme tune in the movie "Around the World in 80 Days" was stolen from a Viennese operetta.

Viennese-born Mrs. Johanna Kahn claims that the tune used in the Todd production was completely plagiarized from the operetta "Orlof" written by her deceased father Bruno Granichstaetten, a famous composer.

Composer-Conductor Victor Young is listed as one of the co-defendants in the suit filed by Mrs. Kahn.

Pointers Defeat Granville Wells

The Bainbridge Pointers, with Jeff Blue scoring 27 points, broke a tight game with Granville Wells Wednesday night to rout the new Montgomery County school by a score of 62-41, on the Pointers' floor.

Bainbridge led only 25-21 at the half, as Granville Wells confused the Pointers' run-and-shoot offense with a stall game.

However, the Pointers began to find Blue open under the basket early in the third period, and soon broke the game wide open. In ten minutes time, Bainbridge had a 31-point margin, and coasted in as their subs took over.

The Pointers, looking stronger every game, now have a record of 5-0, while Granville Wells slipped under the 500 marks as a result of the defeat. Their record is now 2-3.

Granville Wells led only one time during the contest, that being when forward Larry Kinkead, who led his team with 23 points, hit from 10 feet out in the middle of the first quarter to give Granville a short-lived 9-7 margin.

Dick Nixon Wore Borrowed Tuxedo

LONDON UPI—Vice President Richard M. Nixon, dressing for Thanksgiving dinner with Queen Elizabeth, found he was fully equipped with what the well-dressed man wears on such occasions—except for a proper suit.

Nixon, who entertained the Queen, Prince Philip and other prominent Britons at the U. S. Embassy, got into dress shoes and socks, starched shirt and black tie before he discovered that his tuxedo was hanging in a closet in Washington.

As when Gen. Mark Clark lost his pants on a submarine mission to occupied North Africa during World War II, Nixon's sartorial crisis touched off a chain reaction.

A hasty canvass of the embassy staff revealed that press adviser James Bassett, of Los Angeles, owned a tuxedo that fit the vice president—well, almost. Bassett picked up a replacement from one of the Scotland Yard men assigned to protect the vice president during his English visit.

The detective found a dinner jacket for himself somewhere—the details from this point on are vague—but observers assumed that the junior member of the Scotland Yard detail had dinner in the kitchen, perhaps in a barrel.

Bassett's tuxedo was too long and two loose to be a perfect fit, but none of the 56 guests, including Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, Earl Mountbatten and a number of other titled notables, were so inattentive as to point.

Mrs. Nixon vowed that the next time her husband goes abroad, she will see to it that a suit to match every tie in his wardrobe goes with him.

"This is the first trip he ever went on that I didn't pack for him," she said. "It will never happen again. Somebody in Washington a week ago forgot to pack it—and it wasn't me."

Escaped Killer Hunted In Dixie

MURFREESBORO, Tenn. — UPI—Authorities have placed a heavy round-the-clock watch at the Murfreesboro jail to guard against the possibility of escaped killer Spence Edwards breaking in and freeing a brother held for murder.

Edwards, 35, escaped from a Georgia road gang Tuesday and kidnaped four persons in his flight through four states. All were released unharmed. The FBI today joined in the search for Edwards.

His brother, Harry, 30, was held here on a charge of killing his father-in-law.

Spence Edwards broke into the jail in 1947 and released an older brother, Alfred. They fled to Georgia where Spence killed Garland Fields, a state Bureau of Investigation agent.

Spence was sentenced to Life in prison after his recapture. Alfred was sent to a mental institution.

Hubert Turner, held captive by the fugitive during a two-day ride through parts of Georgia, Kentucky and Tennessee, quoted Edwards as saying: "I'll kill anybody who gets in my way."

Thursday, three Murfreesboro beam-agers told officers that Edwards kidnaped them at gunpoint and forced them to drive him to Birmingham, Ala., in a stolen patrol car. The youths, Dwight Throneberry, 17, Enos Carter, 18, and Simon Warner Jr., 16, said Edwards left them after the car developed engine trouble.

The fugitive treated them well and gave them $10 before he left the car and began hitchhiking, the boys said. They returned here and related their experience to FBI agents.

"Sunny Jim" Watson Was Involved In GOP Factional Strife For Many Years

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — If Sen. James E. Watson had lived, he would have been 92 years old this month.

This Hoosier who missed achieving greatness by a hair's breadth was born in Winchester, Ind., on Nov. 2, 1864, as the Civil War was drawing to a close.

Those who believe that the current factional strife in the Indiana Republican Party is something new should review the career of "Sunny Jim" Watson, born in an era of bitter conflict between the states.

Watson, during various years of his half century as a political power, battled with such GOP greats as President Herbert Hoover, President Theodore Roosevelt, Wendell Willkie, Sen. Albert J. Beveridge and Gov. James P. Goodrich, a fellow student at DePauw University.

Watson was Senate floor leader during Hoover's presidential regime, but the senator's heart was not in his work because he believed that Hoover's policies fluctuated too much.

When a fellow senator chided Watson for "not standing behind the President," Watson replied: "How can a man stand behind a jumping jack?"

Also, the salty senator took a dim view of the fact that his fellow Hoosier, Wendell L. Willkie, a former Democrat, was nominated for President by the Republicans in 1940.

"Members of that Willkie family in Elwood always were Democrats and voted against me for 40 years," Watson said. "I'm glad Wendell has seen the light and turned Republican. But I feel that it just isn't right to let a converted streetwalker join the church one day and lead the choir the next."

Watson was an admirer of Teddy Roosevelt but championed William Howard Taft against Roosevelt, whose unpredictable maneuvers often startled Watson.

"When Teddy was at the heyday of his power," Watson said, "we used to rush down every morning in our night clothes and grab a newspaper to find out what he had done with us the night before."

Perhaps Watson's failure to achieve statesman stature was explained in his celebrated remarks:

"Sometimes it's necessary to rise above principle for the good of the party."

"If you can't like 'em, join 'em." Also, when Washington newsmen kidded him about "going out to Indiana to attend a Ku Klux Klan rally," Watson smiled and replied:

"Yes, and next week, I'm going to go to a big meeting of the Knights of Columbus."

Watson had urged Calvin Coolidge to run for a third term because of dissatisfaction with his heir apparent, Herbert Hoover, in 1928. But Coolidge then made his famous, "I do not choose to run" statement.

Watson, in his book of reminiscences, "As I Knew Them," said Coolidge's explanation was:

"I think I know myself very well. I fitted into the situation that existed right after World War I, but I might not fit into the next one."

Immediately following the terrible carnage of that great conflict, the people wanted rest and that is what I was naturally adapted to give them, and I give them. They have prospered under those conditions, because the times have demanded them, and I was qualified to supply the demand.

"But a different situation now confronts us and there must be something constructive applied to the affairs of government. I do not feel I am the man to fill that sort of a position."

Concerning President Taft, Watson said:

"I always had for Taft a most kindly feeling, notwithstanding the fact that I frequently got entirely out of patience with his lumbering and ineffective political methods. But truth compels me to say that he was not a success as president of the United States."

His opinion of a Democratic President Woodrow Wilson was: "Woodrow Wilson was just another idealistic college professor who had beautiful dreams and who sought to work them out in a practical world, a world altogether too selfish and sordid to be prepared at this time for anything Utopian in character."

Once when the Senate was considering a tariff on sugar, it was learned that Watson had bought some stock in a sugar company and had given a note in payment for it. When the newsmen gathered to obtain Watson's explanation, he merely chuckled and said:

"This stock was no good, and neither was my note."

Tigers To Host Wheaton Netters

Opening its season against one of the country's finest small-college quintets, DePauw will meet the all-veteran Wheaton Crusaders in Wheaton, Ill., Monday night.

The Tigers have a new coach, Elmer McCall, and new material, with graduation, injuries and departures wiping out almost all of last year's club.

Missing are the top five scorers, including all-conference forward Bing Davis. A 6-3 senior, Davis is recovering from a foot ailment and may be available later in the season.

Graduation took care of forward Tom Johnson and guards John Bunnell and Frank Estes, and Bunnell's running mate on the first team, Jerrell Graham, dropped out of school.

The sole remaining starter is 6-5 senior center Dwight Tallman, an all-conference football player who took over last year when grades eliminated the other two pivots.

Aside from Davis and Tallman, the Bengal squad includes only one other letterman, 5-11 senior guard Carl Meditch, and a broken wrist kept him out of the final 14 games in 1957-58.

Tallman and Meditch probably will be joined on the first five by forwards Larry Skelton (6-2) and Darrell Crosby (6-0), both juniors, and 5-9 junior guard Do Rich.

Crosby and Rich saw limited action one year ago, but Skelton has had no varsity experience. On the Wheaton side of the ledger, prospects are absolutely dazzling. Coach Lee Pfund has everybody back from the quintet which compiled a 23-7 record and placed fourth in the NCAA college-division tourney.

With the exception of 6-7 center, John Dobbert, it also is the same club which won the national college-division championship in 1957.

Both forwards, Mel Peterson and Bob Whitehead, earned Little All-America honors last year, and guards Don Anderson and Bill Gerig were not far behind.

All four averaged in double figures during the 1957-58 campaign, with Peterson on top at 22.6 points per game. Whitehead carries a 16.9 average; Anderson, 13.4; and Gerig, 12.4.

Last year's initial contest between the two schools went to Wheaton by a 75-68 score.

U. N. ASSEMBLY CONVENES

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — The General Assembly's main political committee convened for the 1,000th time in its 13-year history today to resume the three-pronged debate over Cyprus.

The 81-nation group found that Thanksgiving Day recess to let members cool had produced scant results, but there was still hope that mediation efforts might have some effect within the next few days.

India, the principal compromiser at the U. N., was busy trying to narrow the differences between Britain, Greece, and Turkey over U. N. action on the question. It was understood that Norway and Canada also were trying to promote an agreement through "quiet diplomacy."

ISSUES PROCLAMATION

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — Governor Handley today proclaimed the weekend of Dec. 5-7 as Indiana Traffic Safety Sabbath and urged the clergy to preach and pray for an intensified effort to reduce highway deaths.

Handley took cognizance of the fact that 123 persons were killed in Hoosier traffic last December. He asked Catholic, Hebrew and Protestant faiths to unite in pointing out moral responsibilities of their members to avoid traffic deaths.

DeGaulle Will Visit Algeria

PARIS (UPI) — Premier Charles de Gaulle will fly to Algeria next week for the fourth time since his return to power to try once again to restore peace to the North African territory.

The premier's office announced Thursday night that he will leave Wednesday on a five-day tour of Algeria and the Sahara.

De Gaulle vowed on June 2 when the Fourth Republic's last parliament voted him six months of emergency powers, that Algeria would be at peace by the time the six months were up. That deadline passes Tuesday and there appears to be little likelihood of a settlement by that time.

ADENAUER REJECTS PLAN

BOON, Germany (UPI) — West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today rejected Soviet proposals for turning West Berlin into a "free city" on the grounds that its security would not be guaranteed. He said Allied troops will remain in West Berlin.

Hoosier 4-H Champs Win Chicago Trip

Young Indiana 4-H residents of Daviess, Decatur, Hamilton and Jackson Counties will be among the delegates at the 1958 National 4-H Club Congress opening in Chicago on Nov. 30. They have won state honors in the 4-H Field Crops, Home Improvement, Health and Canning programs and have been awarded all-expense trips to the Windy City. These programs are conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service and arranged by the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work.

Producing quality crops may be just luck for some farmers. But Marvin Jolliff, 18, of Elnora, knows that the contributing factors are proper soil management, good seed, control of insects, disease, and weeds. For his achievements in the 4-H Field Crops program he has won a trip awarded by the Arcadian Products Dept. of Allied Chemical Corp.

Jolliff's project might well be called a magnificent food mart. Almost $12,000 profit has passed over his field crops counter for sale of corn, alfalfa, wheat and soybeans. His swine have won 30 blue ribbons and 15 champion awards.

Jolliff, who has been a four-year local junior leader of the Wise Owls 4-H Club, also knows how to be jolly, and has merited the office of Daviess County recreation junior leader.

Home Sweet Home

A real do-it-yourself advocate in home furnishings and improvement is Jane Alley, 20, of Greensburg. Miss Alley participated in the 4-H Home Improvement program with such zeal that Sears-Roebuck Foundation will supply her Congress trip.

Nearly every room in the Alley home has been improved since this talented young homemaker began her project nine years ago.

She has made rooms into conversation pieces. For example, the Chinese bathroom has its red walls decorated with clear plastic. A red, black, and ivory decor is carried from the flooring to the black towels.

Another intriguing bathroom has a Dutch theme, with Dutch scenes and color scheme of yellow and gray.

Articles in her handicraft project are used as decorations. Flower arrangement is also a hobby she utilizes in her home. She has won top awards at flower shows. She was chairman of home improvement at the fair and helped train judges for the district contest.

FINE FEATHERS—Britain's Princess Margaret displays some fine feathers as she attends consecration of St. Mary's Newington church in London.

The church was blitzed in World War II, and has been rebuilt. Princess Margaret laid the cornerstone there last May.

HUSBAND WAS WATCHING, TOO—Look close and you can see Mrs. Joseph Lampe still at the wheel after backing out of a Daytona Beach, Fla., yacht club parking lot, over the curb, across a flower bed and into the yacht basin. Her husband was in her sloop (right), and rowed over to the car to rescue her. He had been cruising in the area. The Lampes are from College Point, N. Y.

Fly Gals Enjoy Turbo-Jet Trip

NEW YORK UPI—Two airline stewardesses know what it's like to play Cinderella—jet-age style.
Janet Mick and Sidney Sperbeck went around the world in a new airplane which they probably won't fly again.

The girls spent two months helping demonstrate the plane.
Lockheed's Electra turbo-jet, to officials of about 15 countries and to firms interested in buying the aircraft. It will be introduced in American Airlines' service
Jan. 23.

"We couldn't imagine why we were called to New York. We were told only that it was a special assignment. We both had done modeling, so we figured it had something to do with that," said Miss Mick, a pretty brunette from Westmont, N. J.

She and Miss Sperbeck, a vivacious blonde from Los Angeles, spent a week in training. They learned to explain the plane's new features and to handle equipment.

New are a push-button kitchen and buffet serving cart from which passengers can help themselves.
Flight time is much shorter than on present piston-powered aircraft, so stewardesses must work faster. The re-designed kitchens make the task easier, cut time—consuming steps, eliminate stooping and usual cooking methods. Even coffee is brewed pushbutton fashion in three minutes.

After training, the girls packed their bags—about four each, which increased to eight apiece on the journey—and set off from Burbank, Calif., for Montreal.
From there they flew to Nova Scotia and Iceland—where women were dressed elegantly in New York and Paris gowns.

On to Amsterdam for the weekend, then to Brussels, Copenhagen, Stockholm, Oslo and Istanbul. In Turkey, they shopped in bazaars and headed off a near riot when cab drivers and passenger-by shovels and VIP's for a look at their lane.

Next stop, New Delhi, where the hostesses welcomed aboard such celebrities as Prime Minister Nehru, Indira Gandhi and her two children, and the U. S. ambassador to India.
The girls also managed to squeeze in a moonlight flight to see the Taj Mahal.
Then they flew to the Middle East, visiting Cairo and Beirut.
Thy to Athens, Rome, Paris, London, Germany, Scotland and Ireland.

Demand Allies Leave Berlin

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Lin-guage of the Soviet note on Berlin struck Western observers today as laying down a tough line from which Russia is not prepared to budge.

Russia delivered notes to the Western Big Three and to West Germany Thursday demanding the West quit Berlin within six months and that West Berlin be made into a demilitarized "free city."

Premier Nikita Khrushchev's press conference statement that "we are not deciding the question on the basis of an ultimatum" softened some of the Western apprehension.

But observers also noted his remark that "those who are in favor of continuing the cold war and turning it into a hot war" will oppose the proposal.

The notes to the West declared:
—Russia will maintain the current status of West Berlin for six months, maintaining its functions along supply routes to the American, British and French occupation forces in that city.

—If during that period the West does not agree to make West Berlin a free, demilitarized city with some kind of United Nations participation, Russia will hand over its occupation functions to East German Communist authorities.

Thereupon, the note continued, East Germany would "deal with questions pertaining to her territory—that is, to exercise her sovereignty over her land, water and air space."

—If the Western powers persist in refusing to deal with the East Germans and try to run military convoys to West Berlin by force the results could be dire.

The note said any act of aggression against any member of the Warsaw Treaty "will be considered by all of its members as acts of aggression against them all, and will immediately invoke an appropriate retaliation."

END OF THE MATCH

Two policemen force Rosalie Sparks toward a squad car, after another officer engaged in a ten-minute wrestling match with Sparks in an attempt to break up a street brawl in which she was engaged with another man in Dallas, Tex.

shape up for May 27, 1959—six months from Thursday. The Western Big Three could then:

Agree to pull their troops out of West Berlin and leave it a free demilitarized city. The initial consensus among Western observers here was that this was unlikely.

—Run convoys into West Berlin across East German territory by force. Russia said such "violations" would be met by counterforce.

—Modify the Western refusal to deal with the East Germans and try to come to some arrangement with them over Berlin.
Secretary of State John Foster
Dulles has said the United States might agree to deal with East Germans as "agents" of the Soviet Union.

But the Russian note appeared to exclude any arrangements other than those within a framework of making West Berlin a free city, cleared of all troops.
"In case this proposal is not acceptable to the United States government, there would no longer exist any subject for talks between the former occupying powers on the Berlin question," the note said.

This would seem to create a deadlock soluble only by one side or the other side backing down.

ALLIES SERVE STRICT NOTICE ON RUSSIANS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Soviet Union was on notice today that the United States and its allies can neither be tricked nor threatened into turning free West Berlin over to "hostile domination" by the Communists.

The Western Allies began Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's Thanksgiving Day maneuver to force British, French and the United States out of West Berlin and to turn it into a "demilitarized free city."

The Russians said that if the Western Big Three refused to agree to the plan within six months, the Soviet Union would withdraw from its sector in East Berlin and force the Allies to deal with the puppet East German Communist regime, which they refuse to recognize.

The United States lashed back in a sharp statement declaring that the Russians apparently want to "keep their grip on East Berlin" while tricking the Allies into leaving West Berlin "in favor of what is called a 'free city.'"

The U. S. statement, issued late Thursday, made it clear that the Russian maneuver will fail for two reasons:

1. Britain, France and the United States are "solemnly committed" to the security of West Berlin and its 2,250,000 inhabitants who have "convincingly and courageously demonstrated the good fruits of freedom."
2. This country will not agree to Russia's pulling out of its treaty obligations in Berlin "nor will it enter into any agreement with the Soviet Union which whatever the form, would have the end result of abandoning the people of West Berlin to hostile domination."

The Soviet assertion that the United Nations might be given some vague "observation" status in a "demilitarized free" West Berlin was regarded by American officials as meaningless except as a cloak of respectability for the Kremlin's tactics.

"If we accept even a single point in this complicated arrangement," one official said, "we will have taken the first slippery step leading inevitably to the communication of Berlin and perpetual division of Germany."

American officials said Khrushchev's offer of a six months breathing spell before a showdown should lessen the immediate tension in the Berlin crisis. But they warned that problem remained as serious as ever and the Western Allies would give no ground.

U. S. officials believed Khrushchev is smarting under the fact many is recognized by most of the world's countries but only the Soviet bloc and a few neutralist recognize Communist-occupied West Germany.

In addition, the comparison between prosperous West Germany and the poverty stricken east part of the country is considered to be something the Kremlin is anxious to obliterate if at all possible.

Holds Edge In Plan For Reunion

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Andy Knutson, the Oklae, hotel man who would rather see his wife at home than politicking in the nation's capital, appeared today to have a slight lead in his campaign for reunion.

Knutson, 50, and his 45-year-old wife, Rep. Coya Knutson D-Minn., ate Thanksgiving dinner together in a Swedish restaurant.

The tableside reunion came about just 24 hours after Knutson dropped a $200,000 alienation of affections and slander suit he had filed against his wife's male secretary.

Knutson's attorney, Benedict Fitzgerald Jr., said the only thing the hotelman was interested in now was a reconciliation with his wife.

For at least 45 minutes Thursday the Knutsons put bygones aside to partake of a traditional turkey dinner together. Waitress Alice Kassel, who served the couple, said they "seemed pretty cheerful."

Knutson's campaign to get his wife out of Congress and back to their little hotel in Oklae began when he demanded publicly that Coya drop her political career.

Coya refused and entered the primary election in a bid for a third term in Congress. Hubby Andy voted against her in the primary but she won renomination anyway.

He voted for her in the Nov. 4 elections but not enough other people did and Coya was defeated by a Republican.

CAPEHART HEARD FROM

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Homer E. Capehart R-Ind., said Wednesday that "poor leadership" cost the Republicans the election in Indiana. But he said he had no desire to take over what he termed the state GOP's "bankrupt organization."

Jim Freeman Is "Coach Of Year"

Bill State's gridiron chief, Jim Freeman, has been named 1958 football coach-of-the-year in the Indiana Collegiate Conference. Bringing the Cardinals into championship contention during his third year at the helm, Freeman saw his charges finish with a 6-2 record and tie for second place in the league.

He was an assistant coach at Indiana University from 1938 to 1940, then divided the next six years between high school coaching jobs in Brazil, Ind., Kingsport, Tenn., and McClellandtown, Pa.

In 1946 he became line coach at the University of Connecticut, and two years later he returned to Indiana for a four-year stint as line coach of the Hoosiers. Freeman joined the Ball State staff in 1956 after spending another four years as head football coach at Bethlehem high school in Fredericktown, Pa.

A graduate of Indiana, he was an all-state guard there for three straight years, 1935-37, and earned all-Big 10 honors in his senior season.

He compiled a 4-4 record during his first year as head coach at Ball State and a 2-5-1 mark in 1957.

Farm Meetings Are Scheduled

The first of a series of meetings for farmers in the Cloverdale area will be held Wednesday evening, December 3 at 7:45 in the Legion Hall at Cloverdale.

A questionnaire was sent out after the meetings were concluded last year. The results indicated that credit—When and How to Use it—was of major concern to most farmers. It was the opinion of the advisory group that most people knew where to get credit, but more needed to know when and under what circumstances a person should make use of available credit.

Horace Paarberg, farm manager, with Farm Craft Farm Management Service will give us the benefit of some of his experiences in the farm management field.

A group of four local farmers have made up farm problems. We then will discuss what the farmer should do. Since there is no one answer that we can give to each situation we hope there will be a lively discussion from the group.

We also hope to have a good representation from the different credit institutions. They will advise us whether or not the farmer in the situation can borrow from them.

Tuesday evening, December 2, Les Smith, agronomist from Purdue will discuss Crops and Fertilizers at the Fillmore high school at 7:45.

Crop production is a basic part of farming despite all of the interest and emphasis on intensive livestock systems.

Some of the things that will be covered at the meeting will be modern fertilizers, up to date cultural practices and new crop varieties.

AUTHENTIC GREATNESS!

A COUPLE OF CALAMITIES—Upper: A vicious windstorm did this to home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Randal in Denver, Colo. Neither the Randels nor their three children were injured. Lower: Ralph Foote, sitting in his car in his garage in Holland, Mich., somehow tramped on the accelerator at the wrong time, and the car shot through back wall of his garage (right) and sheared off the double doors of Fred Scheibach's garage (beyond car). Back wall of Foote's garage tipped up, then flopped back in place almost like one of those overhead doors.
